The Industrial Revolution in Song

An open and schizophrenic talk and ppt presentation, spoken by Dr. habil. Andrew C. Rouse and sung by Andy Rouse

The Industrial Revolution as you have never heard it before. From the mouths and eyes of those who lived and suffered it, rather than the historians who later wrote it down, the event moves from a regretful nostalgia of a disappearing (and maybe non-existent) rural idyll to the hard knocks of the mills and mines.
